

solutions@indatatech.com
210-344-0012 [local]
866-902-DATA
indatatech.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: 6 January 2017

Mercedes Ramcharan
Indatatech
210-344-0012
mercedes@indatatech.com

Indatatech Employees Earn Lean Six Sigma Belt Certifications

San Antonio, Texas – Indatatech, a global logistics and Supply Management consulting firm, announced today that five employees recently earned their Lean Six Sigma Yellow Belt certifications, and two employees their Green Belt certifications.

Yellow Belt certifications: Carol Glass, Bookkeeper; Yearim Gonzales, Data Analyst; Maurice Irons, Project Management Associate; Brian McCrary, Logistics Technician; and James Solis, Client Services Manager.

Green Belt certifications: Greg Thompson, Director of Operations and Mercedes Ramcharan, Director of Resource Management.

“One of our core values is “Customers first, Employees Always,” said Randy Ramcharan, Indatatech COO. “We are always looking at ways to focus on the personal and professional development of our team members.”

Ramcharan, who holds a Green Belt certification, said this training is just one of several the company has planned to provide their employees this year.

About Indatatech – Indatatech (Instant Data Technologies) is a full service management and consulting company specializing in Logistics & Technical Services, Procurement & Sourcing Services, Staffing & Recruitment Services, and Facility Management Services. Founded in 2000, Indatatech has established a global presence working in over 12 countries, and numerous locations across the United States. Indatatech is a Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business (SDVOSB), a Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB), and Minority Business Enterprise (MBE). Focused on high performance, value add services, and high customer service - Indatatech provides global solutions for “Instant Peace of Mind.”

###